About DAAD (Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst) German Academic Exchange Service

The DAAD is the organization for the internationalization of German universities. It opens up access to the best study and research opportunities for students, researchers and teachers by awarding scholarships and promotes transnational cooperation and partnerships between universities through customized programmes. Furthermore DAAD strengthens German Studies and German language abroad and assists developing countries in establishing high-performing universities.

Since its founding in 1925, DAAD has supported around 2 million scholars in Germany and abroad, making it the largest funding organization for academic exchange worldwide. It is carried as an association by German universities and student bodies. The budget comes mainly from federal funds from various German ministries, primarily from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, but also from the European Union and other sponsors.

Awarding grants and scholarships belongs to the core activities of the DAAD. In 2017, the DAAD funded more than 130.000 German and international scholars worldwide.

This brochure contains annual and non-annual DAAD scholarship programmes. Please get an update at www.funding-guide.de or/and contact us for more details.

Five reasons to study in Germany

Germany is the third most popular destination among international students in the world. More than twelve percent of students at German universities come from abroad. Germany is an attractive place to study and German university degrees are highly respected by employers worldwide.

German universities offer excellent teaching and research, ranking among the best in the world. You will earn an internationally renowned degree, giving you excellent prospects on the global labor market.

2. Geared to practice

German universities provide outstanding academic programmes, while universities of applied sciences offer a range of attractive, practice-oriented options. Many study programmes combine theory and practice. This will greatly facilitate your career start.

3. Potential unlocked

In Germany, you can make the most of yourself. Here you can develop your intellectual abilities and personal skills freely and reach your full potential. If you are out to achieve great things, you will find determination, motivation and commitment open many doors – both during your studies and after your studies.

4. Safe country

In comparison with other countries, Germany is a safe country. In town or in the countryside, by day or by night, you can move around freely here. Germany offers economic and political stability, which makes it an ideal place for you to study.
